WELCOME HOME

Greetings by Co-Founders and Co-Chairs

Dear friends and co-creators,

How do we as humanity undertake the ever more pressing task of building a regenerative and inclusive future for all life on our ravaged home planet Earth, faced with growing human despair and ecological devastation?

The worsening Ukraine-Russia war, and its widening ramifications for the world at large, from fuel and food shortages to political polarisation, from nuclear threats to arms deals, has deepened the urgency of envisioning and enacting a regenerative future for all life.

It is against this dramatic backdrop that Home for Humanity pursued its mission in 2022 to engage people of all backgrounds, cultures and ages to 'transform our divided world into a united home for all life on Earth'.

2022 saw an exponential expansion of our contribution and impact, far beyond our plans and projections. We attribute this to the collective spirit that animates Home for Humanity's ever-expanding Earth Family of integral changemakers, each of whom feels passionately called to pioneer transformation, starting with themselves and their local home communities and cultures, always in service to our Earth Home.

As the old story, the old paradigm and old systems disintegrate, our movement's dedication deepens to nurture the emergence of our new common story based on a new living paradigm. As we catalyse our personal purpose and collective social capacities, we are co-creating regenerative systems, life-styles and communities, across our Earth.

We invite you to journey through this Annual Report, that represents, true to our spirit, "Our Common Story", and to join us as co-authors of a regenerative future for all life.

As the Home for Humanity global movement for human and planetary regeneration, we focus on three interconnected and mutually supportive Programmes, based on our Humanity Charter and its Integral Theory of Change, to actualise:

OUR VISION: to co-create Home on Earth: a regenerative and inclusive future for all life, &

OUR MISSION: to catalyse the potential of HUMANITY as agents of transformation, of HOMES to become seedbeds for ecological and societal regeneration, and of all CULTURES to contribute their unique wisdom to shape an inclusive, regenerative, just and joyful Earth Civilization for all life.

Together, we aspire to transform our divided world into a united home for the indivisible family of life on Earth.

Accomplishment of Strategic Priorities and Highlights of Three Flagship Programmes

Overview

In our Strategic Outlook for 2022-2024, we identified Five Strategic Priorities to fulfill our vision and mission. The course of events in 2022, particularly the outbreak of war between Russia and Ukraine, and its extensive ramifications in every corner of our home planet Earth, deeply impacted all of us and reshaped some programme activities.

Given the cataclysmic challenges the Earth and humanity faced in 2022, we responded purposefully and proactively, while making exponential progress towards our collective vision, and the strategic priorities we had set ourselves for 2022-2024.

Here we present a synthesised review of the accomplishments towards our Five Strategic Priorities in just one year, through the activities in our three programme foci, appropriately adapted to meet the emergent realities and needs of 2022.

Furthermore, 2022 was an awe-inspiring experience of the power of co-creating as 'humanity in unity', working in collaboration with co-creators, exemplary Homes for Humanity and like-spirited partner organisations on all continents, in service to our Earth home. Despite limited financial funding, the power of collective commitment and our gifting culture of voluntarism ensured that the outcomes and impact of our work in 2022 were of immense, profound and lasting benefit to all life.

Priority One:

To mentor highly committed youth to realize their purpose and potential and to make their optimal contribution to our shared future on Earth

Accomplishments in 2022:

Humanity Fellowship for Integral Youth Leaders

This first priority was fulfilled through the initiation of the Humanity Fellowship, whereby four motivated youths stepped into their higher integral leadership potential. The four young Humanity Fellows served as the Core Team supporting the expanding Home for Humanity movement while being mentored to fulfil their life purpose and potential. One of the Fellows is writing her MA Thesis, and another her BA thesis, on their work with Home for Humanity, thus contributing to transformative education in service of society. The two other Fellows have initiated their own Home for Humanity projects, thus benefitting their local communities, and impacting our common future.

Priority Two:

To support individuals to discover their true human potential and live in unity with and service to all life

Accomplishments in 2022:

This priority was fulfilled in 2022 through:

A. Two Transformative Education Courses for Universities

Onsite and online, to catalyse human potential and integral leadership:

(i) First, an onsite undergraduate course on 'Becoming Agents of Transformation' via St. Gallen University, Switzerland, for 24 students.

(ii) Second, an online PhD course on 'Integral Transformative Justice and Collective Trauma' for Meridian University (USA), for 30 students. Both enabled students to serve a higher purpose while fulfilling their calling. (Total 54 students)

B. Championing Integral Leaders for Future Building:

This priority was fulfilled through a series of individual visits and one collective integral retreat of high-profile visionary leaders, heads of homes for humanity, allies and partner organisations, at the integral home campus engaged in regenerative strategic visioning and future building.

(Total 20 integral leaders from 14 countries, combined outreach in their communities of +1 million)

Priority Three:

To unleash the power of homes (home-based organisations, movements, communities), connected across cultures, for personal and planetary transformation

Accomplishments in 2022:

Homes for Humanity online course-journey graduates 54 'Pioneers of Planetary Regeneration in 33 countries

This priority was fulfilled beyond all expectations, as 54 graduates from 33 countries, aged 22 to 70+ launched or reshaped their own integral initiatives and deepened their commitment to pioneer personal, local and planetary regeneration long-term.

(Total: 54 pioneers with 54 new initiatives, 17 new Homes for Humanity, impacting +50,000 people in 33 countries, especially Africa, Asia, Middle East)

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY 2022

Strategic Focus and Highlights

Priority Four:

④

To harvest the wisdom, creativity and innovations of all our diverse cultures to shape a regenerative and inclusive future, through Earth Agoras for Earth Citizens

Accomplishments in 2022:

17 Earth Agoras for Future Building with eminent global partner organisations

This priority was fulfilled beyond all projections through 17 Earth Agoras (online, onsite and hybrid), convened in collaboration with diverse global partner organisations, universities and movements, to maximise our outreach and harvest the inputs of Earth Citizens from diverse constituencies. These included two country-wide Agoras in Zimbabwe and South Africa, and one planetary Agora for Indigenous leaders of Original Nations. These Agoras also expanded and deepened our collaboration with like-spirited global organisations, reinforcing humanity in unity.

Total: 17 Earth Agoras, ... partner organisations, over 2000 live participants, projected outreach 26150)

Priority Five:

⑤

To actively generate knowledge and develop Artistry to support the realization of all Goals

Accomplishments in 2022

Publication of Pioneering Pathways from our Destructive Present to a Regenerative Future co-authored by 88 Earth Citizens from 43 countries aged 7 to 92, in English and French

This priority was fulfilled through this unique 'living publication' of art, wisdom, vision and practice for our future, which emerged as our Earth-spanning community's heartfelt response to the Ukraine war.

*(Total: 88 authors, +10,000 readers and participants in Agoras where Pioneering Pathways was presented to catalyse dialogue and visions)*

Cultivating Integral Leadership through Transformative Education

COMING HOME

Overview 2022

The Coming Home programme serves two purposes:

- first, it is the venue of the Integral home campus of the Home for Humanity movement, from where we catalyse and synergise this planetary movement based on distributive leadership and collective ownership.
- second, it is a home for humanity in itself, offering a role model for integral development.

Here programmes for integral leadership are delivered formally through onsite and online university courses; senior integral leaders associated with Home for Humanity come for strategic visionary retreats to co-envision and actualise future building; and local-global transformative community programmes are offered to engage Earth Citizens.

It is also from here that our newly initiated Youth Humanity Fellowship is run.

In 2022, the highlights were:

- Our Youth Humanity Fellowship is established
- 2 transformative University Courses successfully run, onsite and online
- 6 Future-Building Visionary Retreats for Integral Leaders realised
- Local-Global Community Programmes for Earth Citizens held onsite

Youth Humanity Fellowship Established

The Youth Humanity Fellowship provides young people from around the world with the opportunity to work as part of the Humanity Team of Home for Humanity, and to take on challenging tasks in alignment with their own gifts and callings, while developing their own transformative initiatives on their local grounds.

The establishment of the Youth Humanity Fellowship in 2022 was an important step for Home for Humanity - emphasizing our focus on being an active agent for catalysing young integral leaders and to support them in developing their personal leadership qualities as well as their contributions to society. At the same time, the Youth Fellows are mentored in developing their own transformative initiatives on the ground. For example, Humanity Fellow Muziwanele from Zimbabwe is now setting up his own Home for Humanity in his local community in Bulawayo, Zimbabwe, called Ngekhaya - focussing on helping young drug addicts to build a drug-free life. Two other of our Fellows, Paulina and Matilda, are writing their transformative Masters (Paulina) and Bachelors (Matilda) action-research theses about crucial social innovations within Home for Humanity. Thereby they actively contribute to our knowledge and innovation base while laying a foundation for their own future as Earth Citizens. Kajsa, originally from Sweden, was the first who completed the Humanity Fellowship, after 12 months with Home for Humanity. She is now applying her transformative skills and knowledge, acquired with us to build her own Home for Humanity on Integrated Health in India.

"Home for Humanity to me truly means love, it means belonging, it means the deepest of interconnectedness, it means a new state of consciousness (...)."

Kajsa Liedén, Integral Health Coach (Sweden-India)
Now Starting her Own Home for Humanity in India "Awake Well Beings"

"If before I held ideals of what a better tomorrow could look like, I find myself now equipped with a toolkit and a framework to not only envision change, but to implement it."

Paulina Jantos, Masters Student, Education for Sustainable Development (Germany)

"For me, Home for Humanity is both a 'hand' that enables you and ensures support, and a 'home' for inclusivity and freedom of expression. This experience has enabled me to start my own community initiative called Ngekhaya ('Home' in Ndebele)"

Muziwanele Thando Ngwenya, Communication-Media Officer, (Zimbabwe)

"Home for Humanity for me is a place for opportunities and innovation, where differences are connection points to build with each other rather than barriers."

Matilda Sangiorgio, Bachelor Student, International Relations (Switzerland-Italy)

PROGRAMME 1 - COMING HOME - 2022
Transformative Educational Programmes

University Courses for Agents of Transformation hosted by Home for Humanity, Online and Onsite

At the very heart of Home for Humanity's impact-driven transcultural work and vision are transformative educational programmes and processes to build integral leaders for Earth Citizenship.

Applying the Art and Science of Integral Transformation, our core field of knowledge and practice, Home for Humanity offers University-based education as well as courses open to the public. With Alexander Schieffer and Rama Mani as course co-directors, we delivered two full-fledged university courses in 2022: an online Graduate-level course for Meridian University in the USA, and an onsite Bachelor-level course for the University of St. Gallen, Switzerland - which took place on our Integral Home Campus in France. Building on over 25 years of transformative education, and on the extensive research-to-innovation work done by our TRANS4M Academy for Integral Transformation, we witness ever more the relevance and urgency of such innovative educational formats for personal and societal transformation.

"Collective Trauma and Integral Transformative Justice"

Online Graduate-level Course for Meridian University, USA (March-May 2022)

Over 30 highly engaged Ph.D. students embarked on a transcultural journey across our home planet and delved into the inner home of their own humanity. They engaged with the framework, practice, and process of integral transformative justice, in all its interconnected dimensions: systemic, socio-economic, cultural, ecological, epistemic, human and spiritual. The course drew extensively on real-life testimonies from trauma to transformation, and integral case stories world-wide, and featured many exemplary Homes for Humanity and Pioneering Pathways contributors. As students applied the course material to their lives, contexts, and professional practice, a rich tapestry of transformation emerged weekly. It culminated in a participatory "Earth Agora", in which students presented their own creative personal testimonies for enacting transformative justice in their workplace and in their communities.

"The course directors created such a safe and powerful space for us students to develop an integral perspective towards healing trauma. I became so inspired by the course and Home for Humanity that I joined the Humanity team as a volunteer!"

Vanessa Nguyen, Ph.D. Student, Meridian University (USA)

Transformative Educational Programmes

"Becoming an Agent of Transformation - The Art and Science of Integral Transformation"

On-site interactive Course
for St Gallen University, Switzerland (October to November)

24 Bachelor students from a rich array of countries and continents unlocked their potential as emergent integral leaders and Earth citizens and enacted their vision and commitment for a regenerative future. This course is designed as a "transformative quest", where participants engage with pioneering theory, global role models and skill development exercises. Working individually and in small groups, students combine theory and action and learn by being-and-doing. Students are also exposed to real-life stories of inspiring change-makers from diverse cultures around the world who have transformed crises into opportunities. Students worked towards co-creating a real-life impact in their own communities, expressed in the culminating session. Course-coordinator and fellow student Ismea Guidotti from Switzerland-Italy shares:

"On the last day, participants first prepared and then performed their final presentation. Here, everyone shared their vision on how to bring about social change in the innovative Earth Parliament. It was extremely inspiring to witness the variety of ideas that were brought forward, but also to realize the linkages between them."

Local-Global Community Programmes for Earth Citizens

Public Opening of Unity Park and Gaia Culture Art Installation

On World Environment Day, 5 June, the Unity Park of Home for Humanity, France, was opened to the public. Here, trees are planted to represent the core values of the Earth's diverse cultures, showcasing the power of "Humanity in Unity".

The Unity Park hosts the first Gaia Culture Art Installation in France, realised by Marko and Marika Pogačnik, together with five LifeNet Artists. On 5 June, a beautifully crafted glass sign, explaining the artwork and designed by one of the artists, Simona Čudovan from Slovenia, was officially unveiled by deputy Mayor of Haut Valromey, Coralie Chapland and contributing LifeNet Artist Marie-Agnès Gauthier, accompanied by local musician Gerald Constant, playing mesmerising music on multiple instruments from around the world.

The Gaia Culture Installation and the Unity Parc have become an important part of the Integral Campus developed at Home for Humanity France. This area is, at the same time, also a "participatory gift" to the local community and to the many visitors of the region. Seating areas have been added to enable visitors to contemplate, reflect and dialogue within the natural setting of the Unity Parc. Several transformative education sessions on ecological and human regeneration with students and community members have been held here.

"The Unity Park represents humanity in unity, where the cultural diversity of the world is embraced and represented through the very act of tree planting alongside the Gaia Culture Installation – jointly being a symbol for healing the world across divides."

Expansion of Unity Park -
Dedicated to honouring the values and gifts of each culture to our shared Home

In the first year since its inauguration, already 25 trees have been planted in the Unity Parc - each time by a distinguished or emerging changemaker from that respective culture who has visited Home for Humanity for a transformative programme. From Russia to India, from Palestine to Tibet, from Switzerland to Kyrgyzstan, from Ethiopia to Argentina, from Iraq to Syria, from Brazil to Kurdistan, from Ecuador to Anatolia, from Sri Lanka to Morocco, from Germany to Ghana .... and many more. With the planting of each tree, key values and gifts that this culture brings to the Family of Life are shared. Gradually, the Unity Parc is developing into a "natural learning field" and an "experiential symbol" for Humanity-in-Unity.

Unleashing the Power of Homes to Pioneer Planetary Regeneration

Highly Successful Pilot of a Transformative Co-Learning Journey

Home for Humanity, in an alliance of ten exemplary Homes for Humanity from all continents, designed and delivered a pioneering course journey for Agents of Transformation from around the world. Participants engaged "live" with the transformative testimonies of the founders and leaders of exemplary Homes for Humanity worldwide - to discover that it is possible to realise 'mission impossible', starting from ourselves and our own homes.

HOW

Ten weekly (90min) online seminars, (from October 2022 to January 2023) exercises, peer mentoring and a final assignment/presentation. Participants were inspired and supported to launch or evolve their own home or organisation to contribute to local, regional and planetary regeneration while pursuing their own passion and life purpose.

Course Journey "Unleashing the Power of Homes" - Overview

WITH WHOM

Ten Exemplary Homes for Humanity from all Continents working closely together in delivering and co-accrediting this course

Building on Strong Academic Credentials:

This course-journey built on the transcontinental innovation-and-impact ecosystem developed between Homes for Humanity integral organisations over the past 15 years through:

- A ground-breaking global PhD. Programme rooted in the Integral Worlds Theory and Practice, with remarkable, collectively-owned societal impact.
- An innovative and highly popular university course on Integral Development at the prestigious University of St. Gallen, Switzerland, delivered by Home for Humanity, in partnership with many of the Homes for Humanity Pioneers featured in this programme.
- Collaborative knowledge creation by Bachelor, Master and Ph.D. Action Researchers.

This impact-oriented model of transformative education and integral leadership was now offered, through this course-journey, in a compact format to a global public audience to enable individuals and organizations from diverse backgrounds to become agents of transformation and to work towards co-creating a just and a regenerative future for all living beings.

The course-journey was designed as an equivalent to a University level Masters' Course.

Inspiring Testimonies of exemplary Homes for Humanity to invite Participants

Ten Exemplary Homes for Humanity co-accrediting the Course-Journey

With Home for Humanity Integral Home Campus, France, as the guiding convener, the course-journey was jointly hosted by all ten exemplary home-organisations. The design of each session followed consistently the trajectory from "inner home" to "local Home" to "Earth Home". In addition to outstanding presentations and course material, which is currently transformed into a stand-alone "self-paced online learning journey", participants could engage directly with the leaders of the respective homes, receiving guidance for their own transformative work. That was further strengthened by five mentoring calls, focussing on individual and group support of participants.

Integral Kumusha, Buhera, Zimbabwe

Focus: Ubuntu-based Community-Empowerment & Regeneration of Rural Livelihoods

Co-founded by Dr. Daud and Christina Taranhike, the Integral Kumusha (kumusha meaning "homestead" in Shona) has become an acclaimed national role model, featuring a special emphasis on Ubuntu-based Community-Empowerment, the Regeneration of Rural Livelihoods and a legacy (nhaka in shona) driven approach to community economics called "Nhakanomics". Participants were thrilled with the power, authenticity, depth, and practicality of Christina and Daud's sharing – and the ingenuity with which their homestead integrates and balances an ecological, cultural, educational, and ecological perspective, altogether deeply infused by African spirit, the philosophy of Ubuntu and Shona values and heritage.

Sinal do Vale, Mata Atlantica, Brazil

Focus: Regenerating Ecosystems, Community & Individuals through Nature-based Learning

Located on 200 hectares of protected land just 50 km from downtown Rio de Janeiro, Sinal is an Advanced Post of UNESCO's Biosphere Reserves and 1 of 17 certified Global Ecosphere Retreats by the Long Run Initiative in the world. ### Pax Herbals Clinic & Laboratory, Nigeria

Focus: Indigenous Wisdom and Knowledge Systems to Heal Humanity and Planet

Since its initiation in 1997, Pax Herbals has grown into one of the largest manufacturers and research establishments of medicinal products in the whole of Africa. With "Pax" (meaning "Peace") embedded in the institution's name, the aim and mission of this integral enterprise model involve not only the holistic healing of the local community, but aspires to contribute to the regeneration of our planet as a whole. Through the integration of the four dimensions of "Pax Communis" (Learning Community), "Pax Spiritus" (Humanistic Practices), "Pax Scientia" (Academia) and "Pax Economica" (Enterprise and Economics), Pax Herbals fuses the indigenous with the exogenous, the past with the present, to inspire and drive societal transformation as well as planetary regeneration.

CORO & Women's Federation, India

Focus: Marginalized Women Changing the Paradigm of Power in Society

CORO pioneers Community Leadership for a society based on equality and justice by empowering people in the most marginalized communities to steer collective action for societal change. Together, they empower women from low-income communities to act against violence and stand together in solidarity. CORO realized that Identity played a particularly important role in the process of empowerment: identifying as a victim feeds into a culture of submissiveness and a tendency to not act upon effectively changing our contexts. CORO in turn, suggests a narrative which facilitates the realization of power within, power with, and finally the power to bring about change. CORO's Integral approach inspires the shift of mindsets of Grassroots Leaders to becoming impactful change makers.

Focus: Integrated Human Development through the Awakening of All, across 15,000 Villages

The name of the remarkable organization and national movement "Sarvodaya" translates to "The Awakening of All", which is realized by "Shramadana" - "Sharing of Time, Thoughts and Energy". Development is always at the center of Sarvodaya's work - their holistic approach integrally addresses the physical, spiritual, moral, cultural and social needs of the local community. Following the motto "Village-to-Village, Heart-to-Heart", Sarvodaya greatly supports the creation of independent village organizations which facilitate their own economy and societal infrastructure. ## Course Journey "Unleashing the Power of Homes" - Evaluation

Affirming Course Evaluation - Opening Future Potentials

At the end of the course-journey we conducted an anonymous Course Evaluation to invite critical feedback as well as future suggestions from course-participants. Employing a set of nine multiple-choice and nine open questions, we explored diverse facets of the course. The feedback (30 participants participated in the survey) was overwhelmingly positive with regards to a full-fledged appreciation of the course journey, but also in relation to participants' positive commitments to support future course journeys, as well as the Home for Humanity movement overall. Course Co-Directors Alexander Schieffer and Daud Taranhike (Integral Kumusha, Zimbabwe), together with our course co-coordinators Paulina Jantos and Matilda Sangiorgio received the feedback with deep gratitude; and for Home for Humanity it was clearly an affirmation that we had built fertile ground for the future. We present a number of key responses below. (The full evaluation is available upon request.)

CO-CREATING EARTH HOME

Overview 2022

With "Pioneering Pathways", a publication and process to foster Earth Citizenship, and with a large range of Earth Agoras (online and onsite) the "Co-Creating Earth Home" Programme grew in 2022 into full maturity.

Both constitute social innovations in their own rights. Pioneering Pathways, published by Home for Humanity Press in English and French language, turned out to be a viable platform for an immense diversity of voices of existing and aspiring Earth Citizens - across ages, sectors, disciplines, cultures and ethnicities,

The Earth Agora, a uniquely creative format to galvanize collective intelligence and commitment for personal, social and societal transformation, has been developed and further refined by Home for Humanity.

While most Earth Agoras were directly initiated and convened by our Home for Humanity in France, in some cases, like in Zimbabwe, it was our local Home for Humanity Integral Kumusha or our local partner, like South Africa's Trevor Huddleston Memorial Center that convened a quasi-national Earth Agora, bringing together diverse stakeholders from the local /Community village level, to the provincial to the regional and national level of leadership.

In summary, the highlights of this programme in 2022 were:

- Pioneering Pathways publication (English and French)
- Pioneering Pathways Video Series
- 17 Earth Agoras, online and onsite
- "Women for the Earth"- powerfully initiated as a new focus-theme within this programme
- A "New" kind of Newsletter - Our Common Story

Pioneering Pathways, published by Home for Humanity Press in 2022, in English and in French, is a living publication and ongoing dynamic process. It is an open invitation to all concerned Earth citizens and changemakers everywhere to shape and share their own pathways for our common future on Earth.

Earth Agoras: Earth Citizen Dialogues to Co-Create an Earth Civilization

Home for Humanity has convened a large number of Earth Agoras in 2022, a social innovation and cultural renaissance tool developed by us and continuously refined with our global co-creators:

Earth Agoras are open creative forums where concerned Earth Citizens connect, home-to-home, everywhere on our home planet, across cultures, borders, backgrounds and generations, to ignite and harvest our individual and collective wisdom, artistry, ideas and initiatives, to quicken the co-creation of a regenerative, just and peaceful Earth Civilization.

Through the Earth Agoras we deepened and expanded our partnership and collaboration with a wide range of partners and stakeholders. This included universities and institutes offering transformative education: such as Meridian University and Ubiquity University, World Complexity Science Academy and IRDO. It included global movements and organisations with similar objectives and approaches, such as the Dialogues en Humanité, World Dream Day and the Visioneers International Network. Through Earth Agoras, we also catalysed audiences at global onsite events like World Ethics Forum in Pontresina, Switzerland, Ethnokino Festival in Bern, Switzerland, Dialogues en humanité festival in Lyon, as well as online events like the Truth and Reconciliation Week, the Humanity Rising Global Solutions Summit, and the Integral Practitioners' Convergence.

Our Common Story

In 2022 Home for Humanity launched a Newsletter to document the unfolding journey of this growing community of changemakers. We call it "Our Common Story" to illustrate how we, as humanity in unity, are jointly effecting whole systems change for a regenerative future. Every few months, we add another chapter to the unfolding story of the ever growing Home for Humanity planetary movement.

Our Common Story shares inspiring stories from our community worldwide through films, images, narratives and testimonies, of our latest developments, activities, events, educational processes, newly launched Homes for Humanity across our planet, awards, and more.

Our Common Story weaves the shared threads, the emerging new story that we are co-authoring as a planetary movement, together with our partners worldwide.

Four fascinating issues of Our Common Story were launched and widely disseminated in 2022.

Our Common Story is more than a newsletter.

It is an inspiration for co-creation.

It is an invitation to build, together, a regenerative future.

Don't miss the next Edition of "Our Common Story".

MILESTONES FINANCIALS CONTRIBUTIONS

Overview 2022

In this concluding section of our Annual Report, we highlight, in concise form:

- Milestones: Major Milestones for each of the three Programmes
- Programme Outreach: An Evaluation of our Outreach per Programme
- Global Outreach: Our growing scope and impact
- Financial Reporting: Statement of Expenses and Revenue, including Donations, with key ratios, pointing towards main developments this year
- Contributions in Kind: Overview of the remarkable Contributions in Kind, differentiated into Volunteer Work and Artistic-Cultural Contributions
- Gratitude: An Expression of Gratitude to our main Supporters

The Highlight: If we wanted to single out a highlight from this remarkable year, which constitutes a clear Quantum Leap for Home for Humanity, then it is the immense work and impact we have achieved with absolutely minimal financial resources.

This was possible due to the overwhelming support we have received from so many co-creators. You will see how much our contributions-in-kind outweigh our financial resources. While we accept this support with joy and gratitude, also as an expression of the gift culture we nurture, we are fully aware, that from 2023 onwards we will need to raise significant financial resources to be able to leverage our impact and build a regenerative institutional fundament for our organisational future. We welcome any support in this regard, as we pursue, together, our mission of Co-Creating Home on Earth.

Thank you all!

GOVERNANCE 2022

Inclusive Governance and Circular Organisational Structure

Strongly Evolved Governance of Home for Humanity

2022 has seen an evolution of our governance and organisational structure that reflects our integral values and approach, and our growth and maturation as a planetary, collective movement of trans-cultural future builders.

Earth Home: Planetary Level

Unity Circle: Shared stewardship for planetary well-being by two Co-Chairs, Prof Jean Houston and Dr. Youssef Mahmoud. guiding the vision, values and strategy, hand in hand with the two Co-Founders, Prof. Alexander Schieffer and Dr. Rama Mani serving as Chief Catalysts on a full-time pro-bono basis, to innovate, catalyse, safeguard, and deliver on the vision and mission. With close collaboration and inputs from integral leaders and like-spirited partner organisations, as humanity in unity.

Homes for Humanity: Trans-Cultural Level

Distributed trans-continental governance and leadership by the Hosts/Founders of the ten exemplary Homes for Humanity organisations across all continents, steered by Co-directors Dr. Daud Taranhike and Prof. Alexander Schieffer and guided by Dr. Youssef Mahmoud, Co-Chair.

Coming Home: Local level

Shared co-creative governance by the six co-founding members of Home for Humanity Association registered in France, steered by Co-Founders cum Co-Executive Directors, with active participation and inputs by the Youth Fellows Core Team.

Organisational Structure

Our circular, inclusive, participatory, non-hierarchical organisational structure empowers our Youth Fellows, and solicits co-creation from our growing community and partners across diverse cultures, to co-create an inclusive regenerative future for all.

Our circular and inclusive organisational structure:

(i) in the inner circle: Our Core Team of two full-time Co-Founders / Chief Catalysts, Youth Humanity Fellows (currently four, part-time) and volunteers, working closely with the Co-Chairs, Co-Directors of Homes for Humanity and Co-Founding Association Members

(ii) in the 'Homes' circle: joint visioning, planning, decision-making and programme implementation with 10 Hosts of exemplary Homes for Humanity, and new emerging homes for humanity on all continents

(iii) in the Earth Home circle: collaborating with our wider community, and local and global partners, to catalyse our growing community, to deliver on our mission - with commitment, mutual support and joy.

FINANCIAL REPORTING 2022

Overview

In our third year of operation, we are proud that we were able to further increase the external funding received in 2021 (Euro 21.809), with a slightly more diverse funder base, and to generate our first income. Part of our funding from our seed donor has been promised for a three-year period (2021 to 2023), with the prospect of continuation, if other donors join.

However, we wish to highlight that Home for Humanity managed once again to deliver its transformative programmes, with such exponential outreach and impact in 2022, on a remarkably low-cost base - entirely due to the high level of voluntary work and commitment of the core team and planetary community.

*Funds raised in 2022
compared to 2021:
+ 43.5 %*

The two Co-Founders, working full-time pro bono as Co-Executive Directors, with a low-cost, high-commitment, part-time Core Team of Youth Fellows, were able to deliver 2022's high-value impact, with invaluable support from our remarkable Co-Chairs, and inputs from Homes for Humanity Hosts, and our community.

As the major donations for 2022 were received late in the year, the two Co-Founders initially financed a significant part of the expenses of 2022. However, these late donations not only led to a surplus in 2022 but also put us in a good starting position for 2023. In fact, by February 2023 we have already exceeded the funding of 2022. Furthermore, we are now well set to engage more purposefully in fundraising to fulfil our ambitious vision and strategic plan for 2023-2026.

CONTRIBUTIONS IN KIND 2022

Contributions in Kind

Voluntary contributions had already been very generous in 2020 and 2021. In 2022, we saw yet another rise in both general contributions in kind and cultural and artistic contributions. Based on extremely conservative rates, we calculated the total of non-monetary contributions to be over EURO 322.400, an increase of 46.8% compared to 2021 (Euro 226.400)

The percentage of cultural-artistic contributions was, at over 15%, still very high. We clearly noticed that the Home for Humanity work and vision strongly inspires artists, in particular also young artists, to contribute - and to give creative expression to the regenerative and inclusive future we are jointly aspiring to build.
